

Calvin Tunnell and Jane Addair, of Tennessee, in Greenfield, Ill., July 15th, 1847, the Rev. James B. Corrington officiating clergyman. She d. in Greenfield, where she had lived from girlhood, Jan. 25th, 1864. He d. at the same place, Aug. 14th, 1865.

Mrs. Tunnell possessed a good education, derived from a faithful attendance at public and private schools, always the best the community could afford. Mr. Tunnell was an advanced public school teacher, with many years of successful experience. A facile writer—he was a contributor to the local county papers of much historical information, embodied as authoritative in the "History of Greene County, Ill." He was well posted on current topics and politically held pronounced views. For several years he was engaged in the mercantile business in Greenfield. Under the administration of Abraham Lincoln he served as Deputy U. S. Internal Revenue Collector in Greene Co. She was a faithful Christian, from early life a member of the M. E. Church.

[Eighth Generation]. Children:

319. i. Emma Tunnell; b. Greenfield, Ill., Apr. 7, 1848; m. Edward D. Sweeney, Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 27, 1894; l. Rock Island, Ill.
320. ii. Allen Morse Tunnell; b. Greenfield, Ill., Sept. 15, 1849; m. Mary Ann Williams, Greenfield, Ill., Sept. 10, 1873; d. Fairbury, Neb., Oct. 9, 1894.
321. iii. Newton Tunnell; b. Greenfield, Ill., Apr. 22, 1851; m. Maria Caswell, Greenfield, Ill., Oct. 24, 1876; d. Fairbury, Neb., May 22, 1881.
322. iv. Effie Tunnell; b. Greenfield, Ill., June 5, 1859; l. Greenfield, Ill.
323. v. Mary Tunnell; b. Greenfield, Ill., Mar. 9, 1863; d. Greenfield, Ill., Aug. 5, 1863.

319. i. EMMA TUNNELL, the eldest child of Mary Jane Allen and William A. Tunnell, was b. near Greenfield, Ill., April 7th, 1848; m. Edward D. Sweeney, at Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 27th, 1894, the Rev. F. W. Merrill, pastor First M. E. Church officiating clergyman. They reside in Rock Island, Ill.

Mrs. Emma Sweeney completed her education by a course of several years' study at Monticello Seminary, Godfrey, Ill., following which she was a successful public school teacher in the graded schools of Greenfield and Carrollton, Ill., for several